

VIG Opportunity Developed Markets Equity Investment Fund

B series EUR MONTHLY report - 2024 JULY (made on: 07/31/2024)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund aims to profit from the returns on global equity market investments through stock prices and dividend income. According to the intentions of the Fund Manager, the bulk of the Fund's portfolio is made up of shares of foreign companies issued through public offerings, but the Fund may also invest in shares issued by Hungarian companies. The proportion of shares that can be held in the Fund at any given time may reach the prevailing legal maximum. The Fund Manager has the option, at its own discretion, of hedging all or part of its foreign exchange risks using forward currency positions subject to observing the applicable legal requirements.

MARKET SUMMARY

In July, the US stock market experienced significant volatility. Stocks reached historic highs and then fell back, especially in the technology sector. A strong rotation unfolded, with investors buying winners from previous periods and selling laggards such as smaller capitalization stocks. The main reason for the correction in chipmakers was the new US sanctions imposed on exports to China in the middle of the month. On the macro front, inflation statistics came in better than expected, leading investors to believe a September rate cut as a possibility again. The more favorable inflation trajectory was also reflected in longer yields, with the yield on 10-year US Treasuries falling to around 4.21%. Highlights for Hungarian markets included the Hungarian National Bank's July interest rate decision, which resulted in a 25 basis point cut, as expected, leaving the Hungarian base rate at 6.75%. According to the HNB, the main influence on policymakers was the declining US interest rate expectations, but the June inflation figure of 3.7% was also lower than expected. According to the HNB, there could be another 1-2 rate cuts in 2024, meaning that the Hungarian base rate could fall to as low as 6.25%. The Fund closed at the end of July where it closed in June, in line with the main US indices. We continued to buy cannabis ETFs during the month, and our view remains that this sector will perform well in the future. During the month, we closed out our short position in Nvidia when the stock reached an important technical level. We sold our Gamestop stock for risk reasons, as it also fell further from our buy price when further negative news came out about the company. We remain cautious on the markets, our view is that we could see a larger fall in the coming months.
