MARKET SUMMARY

In October, the performance of the Polish bonds was weak: on the 3-year maturity yields increased by 40 basis points, on the 5 year maturity yields increased by 66 basis points and on the 10 year maturity yields increased by 68 basis points compared to the beginning of the month. We only saw decreasing yields on the very short end, yields declined on the 1 year maturity by 26 basis points. The base rate is still at 5.75% and at the rate setting meeting in the beginning of November it was left unchanged as well. Currently the inflation is 5% year on year in October according to the preliminary estimates, thus marked the seventh consecutive month of rising consumer prices and it was mainly driven by higher food and electricity prices. The growing inflation is hindering the central bank from starting the rate cut. However, once the trend reverses, rate cuts could begin, with the earliest expected around mid-2025 or March next year. The Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) rose to 49.2 in September from the previous month's 48.6 arriving above market expectations. Thus the index remained in contraction territory for the 30th consecutive month. New orders are still in a declining trend, but employment and output started to rise. Industrial production posted a fall of 0.3% in the ninth month of the year. As for the state budget, the government generated a deficit of 16,634.8 million PLN in the ninth month of the year, bringing the 12-month rolling budget deficit to 4.52% of GDP.
