

VIG Developed Markets Government Bond Investment Fund

I series HUF MONTHLY report - 2025 FEBRUARY (made on: 02/28/2025)

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The objective of the Fund is to create a highly defensive investment portfolio for its Investors, which typically invests in developed-market government bonds and related exchange-traded derivatives. According to the intentions of the Fund Manager, the bulk of the Fund's portfolio is made up of bonds issued by foreign states and foreign companies through public offerings. With regard to foreign securities, the Fund only purchases publicly traded securities listed on a foreign stock exchange. It keeps the planned share of non-investment grade securities low. The proportion of bonds that can be held in the Fund at any given time may reach the prevailing legal maximum. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may purchase Hungarian government securities (primarily discount treasury bills) and MNB bonds. The Fund Manager has the option, at its own discretion, of hedging all or part of its foreign exchange risks using forward currency positions subject to observing the applicable legal requirements.

MARKET SUMMARY

Global financial and capital market movements in February were largely driven by Donald Trump's tariff hike policy. The US President imposed significant import tariffs on Mexico, Canada and China, which initially triggered a sharp sell-off in markets. Eventually, the last-minute announcement of a delay in the tariffs eased the mood, but the phenomenon illustrates the volatility of the markets. Despite the trade tensions, the US economy continued to show solid growth, with annual household consumption growth above 4% and subdued inflation creating a favorable environment for the equity markets. In Europe, investor sentiment was also driven by Trump's tariff announcements and the expected EU response. German and French inflation data came in slightly below expectations, reinforcing expectations of a rate cut by the European Central Bank (ECB) this year. As a result, the yield on two-year German government bonds fell by an unprecedented 19 basis points in February. This was partly due to the German elections, in which the AfD performed weaker than expected. In equity markets, the industrial and automotive sectors were particularly sensitive to US tariffs, while defense and energy stocks performed well. EU policymakers are expected to prepare targeted trade responses, which could lead to further volatility in the coming months. Last month, we remained optimistic on global rates as the new US administration remained dedicated to bring lower oil prices, which could lead to lower CPI and bond yield environment. To keep overweight duration, we have bought some Belgian government bonds. We have also bought some US t-bills to increase USD exposure of the fund.
