INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The AEGON Atticus Vision Derivative Fund is the so-called premium product of the AEGON Hungary Fund Management Company. It represents more risk than its "smaller brother" the AEGON Atticus Alfa Derivative Fund, but it also targets a much higher yield. The Fund is strongly concentrated, pays less attention to diversification and follows an opportunistic investment strategy. The investment possibilities of the fund are extremely wide. The Fund's assets will be invested according to the anticipation of the portfolio manager. The Fund mainly buys or sells equities and equity indices, opens forward currency positions, buys options and writes option contracts in order to earn the option premium. The fund is allowed to use double leverage by investing in derivatives and futures which means that the value of the positions of the Fund can be the double of its capital resources. Should the price of the fund's assets change by 1%, the balance of the fund could change by as much as 2%. Leverage has the potential to enlarge profits or losses by the same magnitude. The greater the amount of leverage on capital you apply, the higher the risk that you will assume. The Fund is allowed to take long positions and uncovered short positions as well. According to this, the Fund can bet on a bullish or on a bearish market situation, too. The fund's main goal is to over-perform its benchmark which is the RMAX Index + 3,00% The investors also have the opportunity to profit from the anticipations of the fund manager if those turn out to be right. The fund manager typically keeps the assets of the fund in government securities, and he only invests into riskier assets if he discovers some attractive investment possibility.

MARKET SUMMARY

The Fund suffered tiny losses in the last month. We opened EURJPY longs in a value of 7M EUR from 113,52 betting on EUR appreciation against the yen early November. As the euro zone related concerns came to the surface again, the price has turned against our position. Our rigorous investor protecting stop-loss policy has been applied by gradually closing out the bet. The same applies to the Natural Gas longs, since we were able to get rid of the positions with minimum losses. Our wheat long contracts have been rolled over to December 2011. as we still see potential price growth for commodities. The equity markets showed the signs of instability, that is why our exposure to Morgan Stanley China A, Tracker Fund of Hong Kong, RIMM has been liquidated although the defensive Pfizer has been maintained. Our speculative activity is dominated by commodity bets (corn and wheat). Our EURHUF and USDHUF risk has been hedged from 277 and 204 respectively.
