MARKET SUMMARY:

Major equity indices eased for the most part of April as slowdown worries weighed on the market. Several key macro data published in April showed some sign of deterioration in growth prospects. However, the US corporate earnings season once again delivered a positive message with two thirds of the reporting companies surpassing analyst expectations on the net profit level. The bleak EU macro outlook was represented in the underperformance of the European markets as well, while the S&P 500 remained relatively resilient to the market correction in April. Oil prices remained elevated throughout April, however, the record high Middle East premium in oil prices became less justified with no signs of the Iranian standoff intensifying. Climate change related companies did not benefit from the high energy price environment as overcapacity issues weighed on equity prices as well as Q1 earnings.
