MARKET SUMMARY:

Equities remained under pressure throughout May. The correction was fuelled by softening macro data published across the globe as well as a new set of European periphery yield jitters. Greece failed to form a new government following the political standoff of the parliamentary election held in May, which added to the cautious stance towards equities. Most of the major equity indices gave back the outstanding Q1 performance. European markets kept underperforming US equities, while the Euro was hit to 2-year low against the US Dollar as the periphery turmoil weighed on the markets. Crude oil was sold off due to the softer tone of the Iranian negotiations as well as the ongoing macro concerns. The second quarter fall of the regional markets accelerated in May as concerns over the European financial crises and global slowdown intensified again. Polish and Czech stock markets dropped by 10-10%, the Hungarian BUX plunged more than 15% in EUR terms. Cyclical underperformed again, the worst performing blue chips were the oil&gas and real estate names, while the financials outperformed the market by 5% on average. Only a few names managed to reach positive performance, mainly thanks to favorable company specific news: Polimex jumped more than 16% on ENEA bid and positive comments from the CEO, ATT increased by 10% after Acron placed a takeover bid.
