INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The Polish Equity Fund primarily targets Polish shares of companies traded at the Warsaw Stock Exchange that maintain an active presence in Poland, or which generate a substantial proportion of their revenues in Poland. The primary aspect in forming the Fund's portfolio is to optimize aggregate exposure of the Polish securities. The Fund can also invest in a wider sense Central and Eastern European Region's equities and other collective securities as well (Austria, Poland, Hungary, The Czech Republic, Romania, Turkey and Russia). To minimize risk the fund manager selects the securities to be included in the portfolio with utmost care. During the selection the liquidity of a given security plays an important role. The Fund Manager primarily bases its investment decisions on its own fundamental analyses, but it also makes use of the information and analyses provided by other investment service providers, banks and independent research companies, in the interests of reducing risks and maximizing returns.

MARKET SUMMARY:

In March attention was focused on the Cyprian crisis. According to the expectations part of the holdings above 100 000 euro owned by depositors will be frozen, the other part will be converted automatically into bank stocks. The fact that in such a case the depositors might be involved in the share of losses caused uncertainties in the European equity market. During the month the Italian no-win situation was not solved, the attempt to form of the cabinet proved pointless. S&P 500 reached all time high and the DAX index didn't lag much behind its previous peaks either.

In March all of the following indices dropped: BUX Index fell 5,25%, the Polish equity market lost 1,22% and the Czech market dropped by 2,24% in HUF terms. In the Polish equity market the best performing sector was the chemicals sector, while construction sector lagged behind. Synthos rose by 13,9% due to the higher than expected dividend proposal, TPISA reached one year low and Netia share price fell by 9,1% despite the launch of a buyback program and the announcement of a significant acquisition.
