INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund aims to grow the euro-based savings invested in it through returns that exceed the interest rates attainable on bank deposits. The fund is a money-market fund with a broad investment policy, issued in euro, which combines the fund management company's emerging-markets expertise with the safety of classic money-market funds. The fund may invest in the investment instruments permitted by law, with special regard to the money and bond markets. The fund may not hold shares. The fund's investment focus is on short-term government and corporate euro bonds. In the interest of achieving a stable traded price and low volatility we keep the fund's interest risk low; the fund's average modified duration may not exceed one year. Besides traditional money-market instruments (treasury bills, government securities), the fund aims to ensure a higher yield than that of traditional money-market instruments by purchasing mortgage and corporate bonds, and by taking advantage of the premiums that these offer. When selecting these instruments the fund sets strict quality requirements, and may not hold securities that are below investment-grade or do not have a credit rating, except for bonds issued or guaranteed by the State of Hungary. The fund can only open long positions, and is not permitted to open uncovered short positions. It may only open forward contracts for the purposes of hedging or portfolio optimisation. The fund may not use leverage. The fund aims to choose as freely as possible among the opportunities available in the domestic and international capital markets, exercising the caution that is consistent with the fund's investment strategy. The fund records its assets in euro, and endeavours to fully hedge its exposures in other currencies.

MARKET SUMMARY:

It came as a big surprise that the Fed did not start tapering in September, which resulted in a slight relief on emerging markets. The FOMC meeting, held in mid-September had even more: this was the first time that the Federal Reserve published its projection for the year 2016, from which it turned out that the rate-setters see the base rate well below what economists have expected in 2016. The surprisingly dovish tone eased the pressure on the 10-year treasury yield, which came down by 20 basispoints after the Fed meeting. The CEMBI and EMBIG spreads have narrowed, with the recently more vulnerable EMBIG yields plummeting more. After the first (over)reaction, the emerging market indices have come back to the levels we saw before the FED and the risk premiums have widened by 25 basispoints.
