INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The aim of the fund is to function as a stable, very low-risk investment vehicle, but to offer investors better returns than bank deposits. The portfolio elements are selected in accordance with these principles. To ensure liquidity the fund manager primarily aims to hold government bonds and discount treasury bills distributed by the State Debt Management Centre (ÁKK), and bonds issued by the National Bank of Hungary. The average duration of the assets in the portfolio is 6 months, and the average remaining life of the assets may not exceed 12 months. The fund is low-risk, but its portfolio may also contain forint-denominated debt securities issued by banks and corporations, which are expected to ensure a higher return than government securities. In the case of floating rate, forint denominated debt securities the average duration is equal to the number of days remaining until the next interest payment day. The fund may also invest its liquid assets in bank deposits. Besides this, the fund may hold a limited proportion of foreign-currency instruments in its portfolio, but only subject to the full hedging of currency risk.

MARKET SUMMARY:

Last FOMC statement was interpreted as a bit more hawkish, which was accompanied by better than expected US macro numbers later. These were the main reason behind the deterioration of the global sentiment, which could have been only slightly offset by the surprise of the ECB rate cut. Most important domestic data came from HCSO: CPI in October sank under 1% (0,9 % YoY), which drag down the short end of a yield curve significantly. Despite the changing global sentiment, which was reflected in HUF depreciation and steepening of the yield curve, the NBH delivered the usual 20 basis points rate cut this month again. On a more negative note, the implied HUF rates declined to an all-time low of 2%, which is a potential risk to the HUF. All in all, the short end of the yield curve fell further: yield of 3M T-Bills fell below 3%, 3x6 FRAs hit a new record low of 2,92%.
