INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The aim of launching the investment fund was to give investors access to the Polish bond market, and for it to function as a relatively stable, medium-risk investment in the long term, offering our customers higher yields than those attainable on bank deposits without the need for them to tie up their savings for a fixed period. The investment opportunities available to the fund are wide-ranging, so the portfolio manager has a broad remit and there is scope to build up the optimal portfolio. We aim to achieve the highest return at the lowest risk. When making investment decisions we make equal use of fundamental analysis and technical analysis tools, and always take into account the prevailing mood of investors in the market. The portfolio manager determines the potential investment opportunities on the basis of the macroeconomic forecasts, the likely yield curve and the expected return on the curve and market volatility, then selects the investments that can be regarded as safe and that ensure a relatively high yield in return for the undertaken risk.

MARKET SUMMARY:

On Polish monetary policy front it has not much changed: detailed GDP data confirmed that the recovery is progressing thanks to strong exports and some rebound in domestic demand, additionally survey data point to continued but gradual recovery. On the inflation side, the outlook remains benign: incoming data suggest that the recovery is so far non-inflationary. The Fed, after preparing markets for it in the last 6 months, finally announced tapering of asset purchases from January. Preparation did go well it seems: Polish yields marched lower after the weak November levels despite the announcement, although the 10y US treasury yield climbed above 3% by the end of the month which might pose risks. It remains unclear what strategy the pension funds will follow before the February asset transfer, we remain neutral.
