INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The aim of launching the investment fund was to give investors access to the Polish bond market, and for it to function as a relatively stable, medium-risk investment in the long term, offering our customers higher yields than those attainable on bank deposits without the need for them to tie up their savings for a fixed period. The investment opportunities available to the fund are wide-ranging, so the portfolio manager has a broad remit and there is scope to build up the optimal portfolio. We aim to achieve the highest return at the lowest risk. When making investment decisions we make equal use of fundamental analysis and technical analysis tools, and always take into account the prevailing mood of investors in the market. The portfolio manager determines the potential investment opportunities on the basis of the macroeconomic forecasts, the likely yield curve and the expected return on the curve and market volatility, then selects the investments that can be regarded as safe and that ensure a relatively high yield in return for the undertaken risk.

MARKET SUMMARY:

January witnessed a quite severe depreciation of EMFX, with waves reaching our region as well. Several EM currencies were under pressure for a while, although the market punished the currencies of countries with weak C/A balances (TRY, ZAR). Depreciation of the TRY forced the central bank to surrender and hike rates significantly to stabilise the currency. FX weakness then spread to countries with better fundamentals as well. The HUF and even the PLN started to fall quickly at the end of January which was followed by a rise in short rates. The picture was further complicated by the asset transfer of pension funds, which meant local support of bonds vanished at the worst moment. The mid-curve was up by 40-50 bps, the long end weakened by 30-40 bps.
