MARKET SUMMARY:

Equities remained volatile throughout December as markets sold off on tumbling commodity prices and emerging currency concerns followed by a bounce back in the second half of the month. With no quick remedy for the supply glut oil prices remained under pressure regardless of the depressed price levels. China once again staged a huge rally with the Shanghai Composite appreciating by 20% in December driven by momentum trade and the benign effects of the lower commodity price environment. European stimulus expectations and the unfolding Greek political turmoil drove the EUR to multi-year lows against the USD, while US equity markets managed to outperform European indices.

The fund received just before Christmas the necessary trading limits from the partners so during the holidays the fund held assets with short duration only. The filling up of the fund will begin in January and the portfolio's level of risk will grow gradually.
