INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund aims to share in the yields on equity markets in the Asian region, and to profit from the region's economic growth through share price gains and dividend income. Given the risk profiles of the equity investments, the fund is classified as a high-risk investment. The fund invests its capital in equity-type instruments of the target countries. The fund aims to create an opportunity for investors to invest in equity markets that are representative of the Asian economies. The most important target countries are Hong Kong, India, China, South Korea and Taiwan, but the fund also invests in the capital markets of other Asian countries. This may be achieved through the purchase of individual shares or through collective investment instruments. The fund plans to invest predominantly in the latter, and accordingly, it primarily buys into exchange-traded funds (ETFs) and open-ended public investment funds. In accordance with our obligation under law, we draw the attention of all investors to the fact that the fund is a fund that invests in other investment funds; in other words, in accordance with its investment policy it may invest more than 80 percent of its assets in investment fund shares or securities issued by other collective investment instruments. However, the fund's portfolio will not contain shares of any single investment fund in a weight of over 20%. The fund only invests in investment vehicles whose expense ratio is less than 2.5%, though it always strives to ensure that the overall average fee burden does not exceed 1%.

MARKET SUMMARY:

Equity markets kept surging throughout February primarily fuelled by ECB stimulus and the benign effects of low oil prices. Most of the major developed indices managed to break new all time highs, even the Nasdaq composite approached its dotcom bubble era highs set in 2000. European indices once again outperformed the S&P500 in February on weak euro and healthier corporate earnings revisions. The US earnings season painted a mixed picture with above consensus Q4 figures, though soft FY earnings revision trends on FX and oil-linked issues. Crude oil prices performed mixed as the Brent kept rising in February, while the WTI remained flat on storage capacity concerns.

Among Asian markets Japan performed the best in February. The labor market and industrial production show some improvement, while consumer activity was sluggish. At the end of the month, the Indian prime minister announced business and investment friendly fiscal budget. The equity market liked the planned measures.
