INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

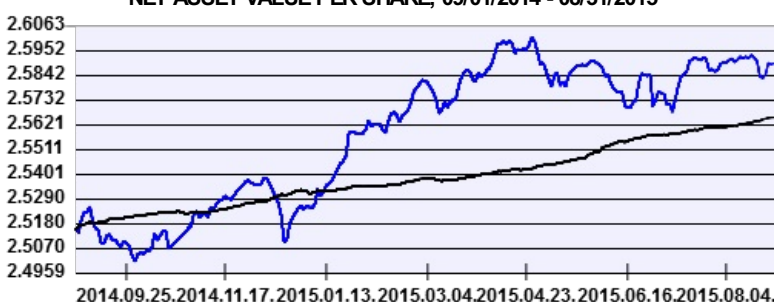

The fund's aim is to assemble an investment portfolio for its investors that is comprised of both Hungarian and international money and capital-market instruments, which the fund can optimise through ongoing dynamic asset allocation in order to attain the highest possible yield. The fund is a 'total-return fund', which means that instead of concentrating on just one subsector of the money or capital market, at any given moment it focuses its investments on the area that holds the promise of the highest possible return. Accordingly, the fund may hold government securities and discount treasury bills issued by the State Debt Management Centre (ÁKK) on behalf of the State of Hungary, as well as bonds issued by the National Bank of Hungary, and also bank and corporate bonds that are low risk but are nevertheless likely to earn a higher return than government securities. Besides these the fund's portfolio may also contain shares listed on the domestic stock exchange and the bourses of OECD countries, as well as the government securities, bank and corporate bonds of OECD countries. The fund does not follow a fixed benchmark, and does not adhere to a permanent ratio of shares to bonds, but aims to constantly change this ratio within a broad range; indeed, it is also prepared to take on currency risk (just as international bond/equity funds tend to) through the purchase of international government securities and equities. At the same time, the fund maintains the option to hedge currency risks.

MARKET SUMMARY:

August proved to be a more eventful month than usual for the markets. Beside the FED rate hike expectations, renminbi devaluating actions of the People Bank of China swiftly came into focus, strengthening concerns about the slowdown of Chinese GDP growth, which resulted in a multiple day selloff on both developed and emerging stock exchanges. Not surprisingly, capital outflow from emerging markets continued throughout the month. Similarly to stock markets, commodity markets faced large losses, with oil falling to historic lows.

We cut our net equity positions to zero mid-August which helped weather the storm but other risky positions weighed on performance. We reopened part of our equity bets end-of August but remain cautious and gradual in adding more risk given heightened market volatility.
