INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund's aim is to earn capital gains by taking positions in a wide range of assets while keeping risk under pre-defined limits. The assets are selected based on fundamental and technical criteria from the widest range of industry and country exposures possible. Based on medium and long-term trends, the fund can buy or sell equities, bonds and other securities, and take various exposures using exchange (futures, options) and OTC derivatives (IRS and currency forwards). Naked shorts on securities are not allowed. The manager selects and builds positions based on fundamental and technical analysis in such a way, that the fund's return can exceed that of bank deposits over a medium-term horizon. Equally important focus is given to risk management which targets Level 5 risk bracket. The fund is not targeting any specific sectors, countries or asset classes, but most of its exposures will be taken on US and European exchanges, or markets regulated by the capital market authorities of the United States of America and the countries of the European Union. The fund's net corrected risk exposure may go up to 200 percent of the portfolio, in accordance with the Hungarian capital market acts and regulations. The fund can also run a net short exposure, also in accordance with the above mentioned regulatory limits.

MARKET SUMMARY:

March brought some relief on risky markets and most equity indices were advancing in the period. The best returns were produced on the two opposing end of the equity spectrum: the relatively strongest S&P 500 and the beaten-down MSCI EM index produced the strongest bounce while Europe was lagging its counterparts. Oil rose more than 50 pct from its bottom but failed at the 200-day moving average. Stronger oil was still supporting sentiment as at higher prices SWFs are supposed to put less selling pressure on equities.

The fund was lightly positioned but was short offshore renminbi and long yen on a permanent basis.
