INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The aim of the fund is to provide an alternative solution for those investors who are expecting a decline of the share prices on the Polish Stock Market. In case of declining share prices by its WIG20 short future exposure the fund ensures that the investor will get extra return on his investment. If the fund manager expects that the stock markets will go up than he reduces the option position, but if he sees higher risk in the stock markets than he will buy more put options for the WIG20 Index. Since the capital protection allows the fund manager to buy only limited amount of futures the maximum short exposure of the fund is 100% of the fund's net asset value. Since the fund is a dedicated bearish fund it intends to keep the WIG20 short exposure 20%-40% of net asset value, depends on the strategy of the Fund Manager. To protect the capital, the Fund mainly invests in Polish treasury bills, government bonds and other debt securities. The Fund offers 90% capital protection for the first trading day of the year under special condition. The 90% capital protection is ensured by the investment policy of the Fund, it does not mean a full capital protection.

MARKET SUMMARY:

Thanks to the expected monetary, fiscal stimulus and the positive change from previously pessimistic equity positions, equity markets soared in July after post-Brexit sell-off. Investors hope for further easing from Bank of England and the ECB, even though right now central banks rather wait for post-Brexit data. According to analyst consensus the probability of FED rate hike in September and December declined in the period. While in Japan significant monetary and fiscal stimulus is expected from the cooperation of government and central bank to boost struggling economy. Equities rally is also supported by US corporate earnings season reports as results of both revenues and net income outperformed pessimistic analysts expectations. The gain was led by the tech companies and except for the oil sector, all industries experienced positive results. For this reason the US equity market broke its all-time high levels several times. In July oil prices were declined because of the rising supply expectations and expected export growth in China and Libya.

Equity markets in the CEE region increased massively during the month but the Polish market was not able to utilize the positive sentiment as well as the other regional countries. However it still closed in the black, with the exception of the bank and oil sector, all the other industry achieved profits in July, led by the food and energy sector. Polish macro had positive developments as industrial production and retail sales showed improving tendency. Moreover unemployment rate closing to the eight-year low.
