INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund's aim is to assemble an investment portfolio for its investors that is comprised of both Hungarian and international money and capital-market instruments, which the fund can optimise through ongoing dynamic asset allocation in order to attain the highest possible yield. The fund is a 'total-return fund', which means that instead of concentrating on just one subsector of the money or capital market, at any given moment it focuses its investments on the area that holds the promise of the highest possible return. Accordingly, the fund may hold government securities and discount treasury bills issued by the State Debt Management Centre (ÁKK) on behalf of the State of Hungary, as well as bonds issued by the National Bank of Hungary, and also bank and corporate bonds that are low risk but are nevertheless likely to earn a higher return than government securities. Besides these the fund's portfolio may also contain shares listed on the domestic stock exchange and the bourses of OECD countries, as well as the government securities, bank and corporate bonds of OECD countries. The fund does not follow a fixed benchmark, and does not adhere to a permanent ratio of shares to bonds, but aims to constantly change this ratio within a broad range; indeed, it is also prepared to take on currency risk (just as international bond/equity funds tend to) through the purchase of international government securities and equities. At the same time, the fund maintains the option to hedge currency risks.

MARKET SUMMARY:

Markets in July bounced back from the initial post-Brexit fallout. Much of the general rebound elsewhere can be attributed to the renewed hopes of central bank policy remaining accommodative. Investors expect the ECB and the BoE to ease further while in Japan, monetary and fiscal steps to promote growth are also in the cards. The equity rally was further bolstered by the good US reporting season while both top- and bottom line results exceeded the pessimistic analyst expectations. Meanwhile WTI oil price fell 15% close to USD 40 and Brent declined 13%, but emerging market bonds and equities were resilient to this and the stronger USD supported by strong capital flows into the asset class.

In the fund we decreased risk during the month. We took profit on some equity positions while in the fixed income allocation we decreased duration and credit risk as well.
