MARKET SUMMARY:

Thanks to the expected monetary, fiscal stimulus and the positive change from previously pessimistic equity positions, equity markets soared in July after post-Brexit sell-off. Investors hope for further easing from Bank of England and the ECB, even though right now central banks rather wait for post-Brexit data. According to analyst consensus the probability of FED rate hike in September and December declined in the period. While in Japan significant monetary and fiscal stimulus is expected from the cooperation of government and central bank to boost struggling economy. Equities rally is also supported by US corporate earnings season reports as results of both revenues and net income outperformed pessimistic analysts expectations. The gain was led by the tech companies and except for the oil sector, all industries experienced positive results. For this reason the US equity market broke its all-time high levels several times. In July oil prices were declined because of the rising supply expectations and expected export growth in China and Libya.
