INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The aim of the fund is to create for its investors an investment portfolio that generates a positive yield under all circumstances; in other words, it takes a 'total return' approach. It does this by using various analysis techniques to select the asset classes and investment funds that have the greatest potential to appreciate in value, and by investing in the shares of investment funds and in collective investment securities. The fund primarily invests its capital in the funds managed by Aegon Hungary Investment Fund Management, but it may also purchase other investment funds and collective investment securities for its portfolio for the purpose of diversification, if the given asset class is not yet covered by the fund management company's own funds. Indirectly, the fund is capable of accessing the entire known investment universe of today through the purchase of investment fund shares (in bond markets, money markets, equity markets, property market, private equity, derivatives and other regulated and OTC derivative products, commodity-market products, currencies etc.), and of making its investments both at domestic and international level. To ensure liquidity, the fund may hold discount treasury bills and government bonds issued by the State Debt Management Centre (ÁKK), interest-bearing securities guaranteed by the State of Hungary, and bonds issued by the National Bank of Hungary. In order to achieve a positive yield, the fund makes active use of risk management procedures and carefully selects the position size of its riskier investments. Since the range of investments includes foreign currency-denominated investments, ETFs and investment fund shares, investors in the fund are also exposed to currency risk. In accordance with our obligation under law, we draw the attention of all investors to the fact that the fund is a fund that invests in other investment funds; in other words, in accordance with its investment policy it may invest more than 80 percent of its assets in investment fund shares or securities issued by other collective investment instruments. However, the fund's portfolio will not contain shares of any single investment fund in a weight of over 20%, except AEGON Money Market Fund, AEGON Domestic Bond Fund, AEGON MoneyMaxx Express Fund, AEGON Alfa Derivative Fund, AEGON Central European Credit Fund and AEGON Ózon Capital Protected Fund.

MARKET SUMMARY:

Positive mood continued in the markets in December since main equity indices soared without exception during the last month of the year. Apart from the supportive technical picture and improving global growth, record inflow into equities in the US, weakening euro and lower weight in equity positions before the Italian referendum in Europe and declining yen and favorable macro data in Japan helped the markets. There were several interesting actions from central banks in December as both ECB and FED made important decisions in their monetary policy. The European Central Bank extended its QE bond purchases program until next December. However, it reduced its monthly purchases from 80 billion to 60 billion. Investors closed their euro long positions because the announcement differed from the previously expected market consensus. Weaker euro had a positive effect on the European markets. The FED raised its key interest rate by 25 bps to 0.75% which were in line with expectations but Yellen indicated a more hawkish view on the anticipated pace of monetary tightening. As a result, increasing dollar power was a determinant market factor during the month. The strength of dollar fueled fears in emerging markets where market participants worry about a prospective currency crisis. Also, rising US yield put high pressure on emerging countries that have huge amounts of dollar-denominated debt. While Italian Prime Minister Renzi resigned after losing the referendum. Oil prices jumped to their year-to-date highs in December thanks to the positive market environment. Additional production cut and closing of short positions supported the strengthening of the commodity. Industrial and precious metals did not perform well during the month as strong dollar had a detrimental effect on their prices.

The fund achieved profit in December which was supported by the great performance of Alfa and Maraton funds. The next quarterly revision will be taken place in January.
