INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund aims to share in the yields on equity markets in the Asian region, and to profit from the region's economic growth through share price gains and dividend income. Given the risk profiles of the equity investments, the fund is classified as a high-risk investment. The fund invests its capital in equity-type instruments of the target countries. The fund aims to create an opportunity for investors to invest in equity markets that are representative of the Asian economies. The most important target countries are Hong Kong, India, China, South Korea and Taiwan, but the fund also invests in the capital markets of other Asian countries. This may be achieved through the purchase of individual shares or through collective investment instruments. The fund plans to invest predominantly in the latter, and accordingly, it primarily buys into exchange-traded funds (ETFs) and open-ended public investment funds. In accordance with our obligation under law, we draw the attention of all investors to the fact that the fund is a fund that invests in other investment funds; in other words, in accordance with its investment policy it may invest more than 80 percent of its assets in investment fund shares or securities issued by other collective investment instruments. However, the fund's portfolio will not contain shares of any single investment fund in a weight of over 20%. The fund only invests in investment vehicles whose expense ratio is less than 2.5%, though it always strives to ensure that the overall average fee burden does not exceed 1%.

MARKET SUMMARY:

Thanks to the better-than-expected macro data the main US equity indices bounced back after a weak start in August. While the European main equity indices finished slightly below their last month closing price, the BUX reached its absolute peak this month.

The British government seems to be more permissive in case of Brexit and is willing to pay 40 billion Euros to the EU budget, furthermore would accept the European Court's indirect jurisdiction in several cases after leaving the EU. Based on a survey in August, Macron's popularity is decreasing; more than 55 percent of the voters are not satisfied with his performance, while this number was just 43 percent in July.

August was a busy month in the United States. Donald Trump announced that an inquiry is started regarding the Chinese violation of intellectual property, the wall will be built on the Mexican border and no agreement will be reached in the NAFTA case (North American Free Trade Agreement). In addition, the president dissolved two advisory boards and dismissed his strategic senior advisor. It is still a question whether political consensus can be achieved in case of the tax reform and the debt limit. According to the minutes of the FED's summit, reduction of the balance sheet is about to start in September, but the decision-makers are still divided in the question of raising interest rate due to the fact that inflation is regarded in different ways. The North-Korean conflict increased in August because of the threat of a rocket attack against Guam; a new rocket was launched that hit the Pacific Ocean flying over Japan. As a result of the increasing geopolitical tension, investors become more risk-averse as a result, the price of gold reached a 10-month peak.

Along with gold, other precious metal's price went up in August: silver reached its June rate, platinum its March rate and palladium its 2001 rate.

The oil price deteriorated in August due to the higher-than-planned OPEC output, the profit realisation and the lack of the oil demand because of hurricane Harvey.

The Norwegian national Fund is about to raise its weight of the equities, from 60 to 70 percent, becoming one of the most significant market participants of the global equity market.

The Asian market moved along the international equity markets in August. In the near future, we expect an over-performance from the market thanks to the improving Chinese short-term prospects and the attractive pricing.
