INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund's aim is to assemble an investment portfolio for its investors that is comprised of both Hungarian and international money and capital-market instruments, which the fund can optimise through ongoing dynamic asset allocation in order to attain the highest possible yield. The fund is a 'total-return fund', which means that instead of concentrating on just one subsector of the money or capital market, at any given moment it focuses its investments on the area that holds the promise of the highest possible return. Accordingly, the fund may hold government securities and discount treasury bills issued by the State Debt Management Centre (ÁKK) on behalf of the State of Hungary, as well as bonds issued by the National Bank of Hungary, and also bank and corporate bonds that are low risk but are nevertheless likely to earn a higher return than government securities. Besides these the fund's portfolio may also contain shares listed on the domestic stock exchange and the bourses of OECD countries, as well as the government securities, bank and corporate bonds of OECD countries. The fund does not follow a fixed benchmark, and does not adhere to a permanent ratio of shares to bonds, but aims to constantly change this ratio within a broad range; indeed, it is also prepared to take on currency risk (just as international bond/equity funds tend to) through the purchase of international government securities and equities. At the same time, the fund maintains the option to hedge currency risks.

MARKET SUMMARY:

Even though investors saw a somewhat higher volatility at beginning, this managed to subside and the VIX index sank below 10 once again. Renewed US tax reform discussions have supported another leg up in risk assets, with US equity indices making new highs while 10-year US treasury managed to spike by 20 basispoints during the month thanks to a hawkish Fed rhetoric. The US currency managed also to strengthen on the back of tapering talks and the sealing of a December Fed hike. Energy prices rebounded, WTI hit 52 dollars/barrel while Brent also managed to spike to levels near 58 dollars/barrel. We bought some USD denominated Ukrainian government bonds during the month, and sold some USD denominated Hungarian govies.
