INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The aim of the investment fund is to give investors access to the Polish bond market and to function as a relatively stable, medium-risk investment already medium term, offering our customers stable real returns without the need to tie up their savings for a fixed period. The fund primarily invests into Zloty denominated Polish government bonds but the portfolio manager has some room to use other fixed income investments. Our investment decisions are based on fundamental research extended by technical research while we also take into account global market sentiment. Expected shifts in the yield curve based on our macro expectations are at the core of our investment process. Risk/return characteristics are also considered when we select suitable and safe investments. We aim to totally hedge any currency risk in the fund.

Annualized standard deviation of the benchmark's weekly yields:	5.50 %

MARKET SUMMARY:

Polish government bonds had a mixed month. In the first week of October yields were inching up, then decreased significantly (especially the long end). In the second part of October short term yields come down again becoming quite expensive (~30 bps below base rate - partly because of a big redemption and coupon payments worth ~18bln PLN), belly remained more or less unchanged, meanwhile long end started to sell off (partly because of the returning issuance) ending the month higher in terms of YTM. The steepness of the whole yield curve is more attractive than recently.

The high frequency data signalled that the economy may have accelerated in Q3 (GDP growth should be higher than 4%). Retail sales rose by 8,6% (consensus was 7,9%), employment in the enterprise sector rose by 4,5% (consensus was 4,6%), average gross wages rose by 6% (consensus was 6,2%).

We got some interesting comments from MPC members. Some members were claiming that a rate hike might be needed in 2018 (but someone spoke about rate cut potential too). However, Glapinski still favours stable rates and that should be the most probable path for the markets for the coming months, at least.

Issuance returned to the market: the Ministry of Finance held 2 auctions, a switch and a normal auction. Auctions were ok (almost 7 bln PLN issued on switch, 8bln PLN on normal auction), demand was ok, however long end papers circulated in the system after the auction keeping yields relatively higher.
