INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund's aim is to assemble an investment portfolio for its investors that is comprised of both Hungarian and international money and capital-market instruments, which the fund can optimise through ongoing dynamic asset allocation in order to attain the highest possible yield. The fund is a 'total-return fund', which means that instead of concentrating on just one subsector of the money or capital market, at any given moment it focuses its investments on the area that holds the promise of the highest possible return. Accordingly, the fund may hold government securities and discount treasury bills issued by the State Debt Management Centre (ÁKK) on behalf of the State of Hungary, as well as bonds issued by the National Bank of Hungary, and also bank and corporate bonds that are low risk but are nevertheless likely to earn a higher return than government securities. Besides these the fund's portfolio may also contain shares listed on the domestic stock exchange and the bourses of OECD countries, as well as the government securities, bank and corporate bonds of OECD countries. The fund does not follow a fixed benchmark, and does not adhere to a permanent ratio of shares to bonds, but aims to constantly change this ratio within a broad range; indeed, it is also prepared to take on currency risk (just as international bond/equity funds tend to) through the purchase of international government securities and equities. At the same time, the fund maintains the option to hedge currency risks.

MARKET SUMMARY:

We witnessed quite volatile market developments during November. Equity market performance was close to flat, but EM was finally able to outperform DM indices. The Fed chairman's surprisingly dovish comments helped indices to recover from multimonh lows. Bond markets performed better as oil prices fell a further 20% in November, total losses amount to 33% from October highs. Fears from a more protracted global slowdown played a significant role, besides supply factors. Growth fears and falling oil prices were sufficient to drive core yields lower: US 10 year yields closed the month below 3%. EM bond spreads widened in sympathy with US high yield, while local bonds performed better. We closed our US bond shorts, increased our Azerbaijan bond exposure and took profit on OTP and Mtelekom.
