INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund's aim is to earn capital gains by taking positions in a wide range of assets while keeping risk under pre-defined limits. The assets are selected based on fundamental and technical criteria from the widest range of industry and country exposures possible. Based on medium and long-term trends, the fund can buy or sell equities, bonds and other securities, and take various exposures using exchange (futures, options) and OTC derivatives (IRS and currency forwards). Naked shorts on securities are not allowed. The manager selects and builds positions based on fundamental and technical analysis in such a way, that the fund's return can exceed that of bank deposits over a medium-term horizon. Equally important focus is given to risk management which targets Level 5 risk bracket. The fund is not targeting any specific sectors, countries or asset classes, but most of its exposures will be taken on US and European exchanges, or markets regulated by the capital market authorities of the United States of America and the countries of the European Union. The fund's net corrected risk exposure may go up to 200 percent of the portfolio, in accordance with the Hungarian capital market acts and regulations. The fund can also run a net short exposure, also in accordance with the above mentioned regulatory limits.

MARKET SUMMARY:

After the record fall in December, the beginning of the year on stock markets has been favourable for the equity prices. Both developed and emerging markets could increase their value. The Emerging market index and America also showed a 9% rise in the first month of the year, while in US dollar terms, Hungarian equities could also rise by 6%. The rise was mainly due to the decline in the Fed's rate hike and the easing of the US-China trade war. In addition, the longest government shutdown in America's history has ended, after Donald Trump has announced that he will sign a budget for three weeks for government agencies. However, the President continues to insist on building the wall on the Mexican border, if no agreement can be reached, another shutdown may come and even a state of emergency can be announced. The oil price also managed to rebound this year thanks to the declining stocks, easing in trade war and turmoil in Venezuela. Europe is still under pressure because of the uncertainty surrounding Brexit. In mid-January, the Brexit draft was voted down by the British Parliament as expected, while Plan B for further steps (planned by the Prime Minister) was voted on 30th January. Although, after the vote, several Representatives of the Union have indicated that they do not support the proposals. Though Theresa May rejects another referendum, some sources suggest that there is already a draft that would offer three versions for the British population: no-deal, May plan or stay. In our opinion, the postponement of 2-years deadline of Article 50 is the most likely scenario, but uncertainty increases the likelihood of a hard-Brexit output. We think that hard-Brexit is not priced in at all, thus such a negative scenario can bring serious sellers to the market but the convergence of the parties and any agreement may reduce pressure on the British and European equities. The fund closed an outstanding month, our long emerging market position was the biggest contributor, although half of this position was closed due to the normalization of pricing level and slowing down of EPS growth. In addition, we bought Austrian individual equities and at the end of the month, we reopened our Russian stock market exposure, while we started to realize profit in our Erste bank exposure. Regarding the fund's bond allocation, we bought Romanian local currency government securities and the Bund and US Treasury short positions were closed.
