MARKET SUMMARY:

There were big changes in December on both sides of the pond. In England it became final that they will leave the EU, and in the U.S. President Trump hit a friendlier tone with the Chinese, he will not escalate the trade war, and will not implement new tariffs. In its usual December meeting, FED president Jay Powell announced that he would raise rates only if he sees a permanent rise in inflation. Based on the macroeconomic numbers, the U.S. economy is steadily growing, the factory orders grew by 0,3% and the weekly unemployment rate is at a 7 months low. The Eurozone economy is not as bright. The industrial output and PMI numbers do not show an optimistic future yet. Lagarde, the new ECB president announced in her first press conference, that she thinks that the euro economy needs more supportive action from the central bank, as long as inflation remains at these levels. The largest economy in Asia beginning to recover from its slowdown. The Chinese Caixin index went to a seven months high. But because of the swine flu, the YoY inflation reached 4,5% in November, which was higher than expected, and overall it was a lot higher than October's 3,8%. In Hungary the central bank didn't change its leading interest rate. The HUF is trying to consolidate at around the 330 EURHUF level. The fund had a positive return in December. The fund has a 75% equity weight. During the month the fund increased its polish exposure, and also bought Russian oil and internet online payment developing company. The fund closed its USDTRY and 30 year US treasury bond positions, and bought unhedged Romanian government bonds.
