INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The objective of the Fund is to benefit from long term, global megatrends. These trends include demographical changes (aging society, emerging markets), efficiency improvements due to depletion of scarce resources (renewable resources, energy efficiency), urbanization, or even technical developments and innovations. To achieving the main objectives, the Fund primary invests in exchange traded funds, secondly in open-end mutual funds. Megatrends are long term changes that will permanently and significantly alter our social and economic environment. The Fund wishes to invest in companies and sectors likely to benefit from these trends. Thanks to its characteristic, the Fund mainly holds sector and thematic ETFs and mutual funds. Megatrends are very long-term, generally global trends, which are spanning economic cycles. Therefore the Fund invests in global markets without any geographical specification. As the Funds profit from very long term trends and exposed heavily to equity markets, we recommend the Fund for long term, risk seeking investors. The type of the Fund is fund of funds, which, according to their investment policy, have to invest in at least 80% of their assets into ETFs and mutual funds. At the same time, the maximum exposure of each fund is not exceeding 20% of their total assets. The Fund only invests in instruments with total expense ratio below 2.5% and intent to maintain the average expense ratio below 1%.

MARKET SUMMARY:

It appears that in Europe, the first wave of the corona virus has ended, but there are already signs that the second wave is about to start. EU Member States have opened their internal borders, but this situation can change at any time, depending on the infection rates. The situation in the United States is not as good. The states manage the epidemic independently, which resulted that, there are states where the number of new infections has already dropped to the European level, but there are also some, especially in the south-west where the infection rate is at new highs. U.S. lawmakers are also trying to adapt to this emergency situation, and have voted to extend the job retention program until August 8th. In addition, the Secretary of the Treasury is working on a proposal that would allow for another $1,000 billion aid package. In Europe, Angela Merkel has softened the "thrifty four" to support the € 750 billion EU Reconstruction Fund. By the end of the month, the economic aid package and the € 1,074 billion European budget had been passed. The epidemic broke out in China first, so we can also say that they are also moving ahead of the rest of the world in economic recovery. This is shown by the better-than-expected June China Purchasing Managers' Index, with the manufacturing industry index at 50.9 and the service sector at 54.4, both data referring pre-pandemic times, a period of the official 6 percent economic growth. In Hungary, the MNB also reduced the key interest rate by 15 basis points at its July meeting to 60 bps. Based on the MNB's communication, we can say that the central bank fine-tuned its bond purchase program, and we can most likely say that we have reached the end of the interest rate cut cycle. The fund achieved a positive return in July and also outperformed the benchmark index. In July, the semiconductor and consumer sectors were the best performers. The weakest were the insurance and healthcare sectors. The fund's long-term overweight subsectors, the emerging market internet and video gaming, have taken over the lead again in the fund and have started to outperform again. Foreign exchange movements also contributed to the fund's performance in July. By the end of the month, the fund's share allocation had returned to 100%.
