MARKET SUMMARY:

It appears that in Europe, the first wave of the corona virus has ended, but there are already signs that the second wave is about to start. EU Member States have opened their internal borders, but this situation can change at any time, depending on the infection rates. The situation in the United States is not as good. The states manage the epidemic independently, which resulted that, there are states where the number of new infections has already dropped to the European level, but there are also some, especially in the south-west where the infection rate is at new highs. U.S. lawmakers are also trying to adapt to this emergency situation, and have voted to extend the job retention program until August 8th. In addition, the Secretary of the Treasury is working on a proposal that would allow for another $1,000 billion aid package. In Europe, Angela Merkel has softened the "thrifty four" to support the € 750 billion EU Reconstruction Fund. By the end of the month, the economic aid package and the € 1,074 billion European budget had been passed. The epidemic broke out in China first, so we can also say that they are also moving ahead of the rest of the world in economic recovery. This is shown by the better-than-expected June China Purchasing Managers' Index, with the manufacturing industry index at 50.9 and the service sector at 54.4, both data referring pre-pandemic times, a period of the official 6 percent economic growth. In Hungary, the MNB also reduced the key interest rate by 15 basis points at its July meeting to 60 bps. Based on the MNB's communication, we can say that the central bank fine-tuned its bond purchase program, and we can most likely say that we have reached the end of the interest rate cut cycle. The fund achieved a positive return in July. The fund further reduced its exposure from 53% to 50% in the July market rally. During the month, the fund opened a Brent-WTI oil spread for the reason that Brent will outperform the WTI. Unfortunately, exposure to the Greek banking sector had a negative impact on the fund's performance, but the Polish contributed positively. For this reason, the fund maintains a higher-than-usual Polish exposure. Also, during the month, the fund realized profits in some of its long-term investments.
