INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND:

The fund is intended to serve as a stable, moderately low-risk form of investment, and to offer investors higher returns than bank deposits over the medium term. The portfolio elements are selected in accordance with the above principles. To ensure liquidity, the fund primarily aims to hold bonds and discount treasury bills issued by the State Debt Management Centre on behalf of the State of Hungary, as well as bonds issued by the National Bank of Hungary. The fund has a low risk profile, but its portfolio may also contain forint-denominated debt securities issued by banks and corporations, which are expected to yield a higher return than government securities. The fund may also keep its liquid assets in bank deposits. Besides this, the fund may hold a limited proportion of foreign-currency instruments in its portfolio, but only subject to the full hedging of currency risk. Aegon Domestic Bond Fund must hold minimum 80% of its assets in HUF-denominated bonds issued by the members of European Economic Area.

MARKET SUMMARY:

The September inflation numbers hit the market as a positive surprise, as analysts were expecting 3.8% and instead the number came in at 3.4% YoY. With this, the central bank gained time, leaving both the key rate and the one-week deposit rate unchanged during the month of October. However, some parameters of the government securities purchase program were changed at the meeting. For each security series, the available-for-purchase amount was increased from 33% to 50%, and the range of available-for-purchase assets was also expanded. However, purchases are still focused on the longer maturities. During the month, the yield curve went slightly lower, with the 10-year yield closing down by 11 basis points, the 5-year yield by 6 basis points and the 3-year yield by 10 basis points. Within the region, the valuation of the Hungarian government securities increased slightly compared to the previous month. Government bond issuance is proceeding according to plan, and the rapidly deteriorating fiscal trend appears to be stalling. Investor sentiment is shaped by the second wave of the coronavirus and the approaching U.S. presidential election.
