The aim of the investment fund is to give investors access to the Polish bond market and to function as a relatively stable, medium-risk investment already medium term, offering our customers stable real returns without the need to tie up their savings for a fixed period. The fund primarily invests into Zloty denominated Polish government bonds but the portfolio manager has some room to use other fixed income investments. We aim to maximise returns with the given risk level. Our investment decisions are based on fundamental research extended by technical research while we also take into account global market sentiment. Expected shifts in the yield curve based on our macro expectations are at the core of our investment process. Risk/return characteristics are also considered when we select suitable and safe investments. We aim to totally hedge any currency risk in the fund.

MARKET SUMMARY:

In the last month of the year, the Polish bond market had a stable performance. Regarding the 10-year maturity, yields gradually returned to around 1.24% after rising at the beginning of the month. Yields closed slightly higher at the 3-year maturity and slightly lower at the 5-year maturity. Thus, the yield curve flattened slightly. Moving on to economic data, GDP is expected to decline by 3.3% in 2020 and 3.8% in 2021. Better-than-expected macro data would justify higher yields, but they are offset by global liquidity and QE programs. GDP growth in the fourth quarter is expected to be -4.4%, while GDP in the first quarter of 2021 has been revised from -1.4% down to -1.5%. Year-on-year inflation decreased to 2.3% in December from 3% in November. The central bank forecasts inflation at 3.4% in 2020. The Purchasing Managers' Index rose from 50.8 in November to 51.7 points in December, exceeding market expectations. New orders have increased due to holiday spending. Industrial production grew 5.4% in November, outperforming market expectations. As for general government, the cumulative deficit for the first eleven months was PLN 13,204.8 million, so that in November the government generated a deficit of PLN 1,134.7 million. In October, the current account-to-GDP ratio reached 3.5%, the highest level since the mid-1990s. During the month our non-Polish exposure (Hungarian, Romanian, EUR denominated corporates) improved our performance.
