

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The objective of the Fund is to create a highly defensive investment portfolio for its Investors, which typically invests in developed-market government bonds and related exchange-traded derivatives. According to the intentions of the Fund Manager, the bulk of the Fund's portfolio is made up of bonds issued by foreign states and foreign companies through public offerings. With regard to foreign securities, the Fund only purchases publicly traded securities listed on a foreign stock exchange. It keeps the planned share of non-investment grade securities low. The proportion of bonds that can be held in the Fund at any given time may reach the prevailing legal maximum. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may purchase Hungarian government securities (primarily discount treasury bills) and MNB bonds. The Fund Manager has the option, at its own discretion, of hedging all or part of its foreign exchange risks using forward currency positions subject to observing the applicable legal requirements.

MARKET SUMMARY

Last month, both the Fed and the ECB paved the way for rate hikes. The Fed signalled a rate hike in March and outlined its principles for balance-sheet reduction. Fed Chair Jerome Powell's remarks on the likely pace of rate hikes were more hawkish than expected. While confirming all its current policies, the European central bank hinted strongly that it is considering a possible acceleration of its exit from quantitative easing and the beginning of rate normalization before year-end. Eurozone headline and core inflation for January came in at 5.1% and 2.3%, higher than expected. An intensification of tension between Russia and Ukraine sent Brent prices to USD 90/bbl. OPEC+ confirmed the tapering pace of output cuts at 400,000 b/d for March. Hawkish messages from central banks pushed 10Y Bund yields above 0.15% and the 10Y BTP-Bund spread beyond 150bp, and on the back of ECB language, EUR-USD rose above 1.14. Equities softened in the latter part of the week after a positive start, while corporate credit spreads were volatile and a steepening bias returned on credit curves. We sold medium-term government bonds issued by the U.S. government and added to the short positions in the U.S. government papers last month.
