

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The Fund's objective is to establish a portfolio for its Investors that generates positive returns – higher than the yields available on the domestic money market – under all circumstances, i.e. the Fund pursues a “total return” strategy. The Fund seeks to achieve this goal by selecting, through various analytical techniques, the asset classes and investment funds that have the greatest price growth potential and make investments through the purchase of investment units and collective investment securities. The Fund invests primarily in investment funds managed by Aegon Magyarország Befektetési Alapkezelő Zrt., but may also purchase other investment funds and collective investment securities in its portfolio for diversification purposes or if the given asset class is not yet covered by the Fund Manager's funds. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may hold in its portfolio discount treasury bills and government bonds issued by the Government Debt Management Agency (ÁKK), interest-bearing securities guaranteed by the Hungarian State, and bonds issued by the MNB. As the range of possible investments includes investments denominated in foreign currency, ETFs and investment units, the Fund's investors may also bear some foreign exchange risk. According to the Fund's investment policy, it invests or may invest more than 80 percent of its assets in investment units or other securities issued by a collective investment undertaking. However, the Fund does not intend to hold more than 20% weight in any one investment fund, except for the Aegon Money Market Fund, Aegon Domestic Bond Fund, Aegon MoneyMaxx Total Return Fund, Aegon Alfa Absolute Investment Fund, Aegon Bondmaxx Absolute Return Bond Fund, Aegon Maraton Active Mixed Fund, Aegon Panoráma Derivative Fund and Aegon ÓzonMaxx Absolute Return Fund, the weight of which may be as much as 100% within the Fund's portfolio.

MARKET SUMMARY

At the beginning of February, investors were mostly concerned about how much and at what pace the US Federal Reserve would raise interest rates in 2022, but unfortunately this has been overshadowed by events in Ukraine. The odds of a rate hike have dropped significantly since the outbreak of the war, but even now we can be sure that the Fed will start the rate hike cycle. However, the armed conflict between Russia and Ukraine has completely changed the investment world. On February 24th, 2022, the Russian army launched a full-scale invasion of Ukraine. The emergence of an open war between Russia and Ukraine had previously seemed completely irrational to us, as no global superpower had launched a war of territorial aggression since World War II. Commodity prices have risen significantly in recent weeks, and not only the price of gold or oil, but also the price of wheat is close to all-time highs. So while the economy continues to slow down, inflation is at a 40-year high. Slowing economic activity in a rising inflationary environment is unfavorable for risk assets. Almost nothing other than commodity-linked sectors are performing well in a stagflationary environment, and this poses a serious challenge for economic agents. The Hungarian National Bank continued to raise interest rates in February in response to the high inflation numbers. The EURHUF exchange rate was stable until the outbreak of the Russian-Ukrainian war, but by the end of the month the forint had fallen to a new all-time low against the euro and the dollar. The fund posted a negative return in February. With the exception of the Panorama fund, all the fund's investments generated negative returns in February. Unfortunately, the Russian-Ukrainian war and higher exposure to Russian and emerging European bonds negatively impacted the funds' performance. The Moneymaxx fund had the largest drawdown, followed by Marathon and Alfa.
