

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE FUND

The objective of the Fund is to create a highly defensive investment portfolio for its Investors, which typically invests in developed-market government bonds and related exchange-traded derivatives. According to the intentions of the Fund Manager, the bulk of the Fund's portfolio is made up of bonds issued by foreign states and foreign companies through public offerings. With regard to foreign securities, the Fund only purchases publicly traded securities listed on a foreign stock exchange. It keeps the planned share of non-investment grade securities low. The proportion of bonds that can be held in the Fund at any given time may reach the prevailing legal maximum. In order to ensure liquidity, the Fund may purchase Hungarian government securities (primarily discount treasury bills) and MNB bonds. The Fund Manager has the option, at its own discretion, of hedging all or part of its foreign exchange risks using forward currency positions subject to observing the applicable legal requirements.

MARKET SUMMARY

Chinese GDP figures showed growth of 3.0% YoY in last year, the second slowest pace of growth since the 1970s, but also staling economic activity in the last quarter. ECB President Christine Lagarde confirmed the CB's hawkish stance and froze out news about slowing rate hikes to 25bp in March, after a 50bp hike in February. After hitting the debt ceiling last month, the US government started to take extraordinary measures to meet its debt obligations. Last week of January brought constructive news of growth in the Eurozone, with PMIs exiting contractionary territory and the German Ifo rising further amid improving expectations. The US Q4' 22 GDP expanded by a solid 2.9%, but this overstates the underlying strength in activity. The Fed slowed its tightening pace to a 25bp hike and flagged a couple more, but Chair Powell did not firmly push back against market expectations for rate cuts this year. The ECB hiked by 50bp and indicated another such move in March, with further tightening likely in the second quarter. Eurozone headline inflation fell more than expected in January, while the economy avoided contraction in Q4' 22. EGB and UST yields have moved a tad lower in the month. Stock markets have also been trading in narrow ranges, caught between positive economic indicators and cautious earnings reports. In FX, EUR-USD steadied below 1.09 after hitting a new YTD peak of 1.0929, while USD-JPY has mostly been trading around 130. Credit spreads have tightened slightly, with financials and non-financials seniors outperforming. We switched from Spanish short-term government bonds to the Hungarian ones with a slightly longer tenor, stayed at the neutral levels overall.
